3. Please note commendable developments since the last report.

- Personalization of this report by telling the story of three of our students; this provided unique and useful data.
- This report shows good effort to better identify comparable data sources and to add more detailed school and student specific data to highlight progress.
- Continued progress on selection of comparison districts, especially those that challenge us.
- Looking at data on the performance of ELL students who have left the program was helpful and showed our success with these students.
- This is by far the best monitoring report we have received for Ends 2.1. Drilling down to tell the story behind the ELL outcomes is great thinking. All the charts on student growth versus achievement and focusing on Sunnyland Elementary School to tell the story are interesting and helpful.

4. Please note areas for additional improvement. n/a
