

Requests for new playground equipment

Elementary Schools likely being rebuilt in future bond(s) that will get new playground equipment (as part of their re-build):

- Alderwood
- Carl Cozier
- Sunnyland
- Roosevelt
- Parkview
- Columbia

Schools that would like new playground equipment, but will not be rebuilt in the near future:

- Lowell (note: install new equipment to help prevent erosion)
- Northern Heights
- Silver Beach
- Wade King says their current equipment is fine, but they would like adaptive equipment for Life Skills
- Cordata says their current equipment is fine, but they would like swings
- Family Partnership Program

Schools that said no, they do not need new playground equipment

- Geneva
- Birchwood
- Happy Valley

Estimated Costs:

Estimated cost for elementary school playground equipment is $75,000.

$$75,000 \times 6 \text{ schools} = $450,000$

Issaquah School District:

Issaquah School District says new elementary schools get at least one outdoor structure (sometimes two).

Sunny Hills Elementary was the most recent school built with a shelter/canopy, completed in 2016. Photo below. Their structures/covers are all steel. From ISD: They require little maintenance, are more durable, install easier, offer a more modern look.

ISD has five schools with at least one covered playground. They typically provide two structures on each site and cost averages between $150,000 to $175,000 each.
