2. Please note commendable progress over the last year.
- This report outlines well the broad and diverse ways in which the superintendent excels in communications with the Board and community. Perhaps more than any other area, his performance has been, and is, a model for how these kinds of communications should be done.
 - The regular, timely and thorough communications directly to Board members on an almost daily basis is particularly appreciated.
 - The extensive use of broad member committees, and work and planning groups, is very commendable and shows great effort toward inclusion and making sure all voices are heard.
 - The board feels that the study sessions are excellent and very helpful.
 - Consistent communication with the Board through all communication channels ensures we are staying updated on important district news and events.
 - Communication during critical times, including the student walkout and personnel crises was timely, thorough and well-rounded.
