

The Poem of Love

by Cora Noskoff Sanchez
(Lowell Elementary School, grade 3)

Once a day, once a night,
there was a fantastic, dazzling sight.

Birds chirping, people laughing,
and sharing their most fun quirky quotes.

But one day that site began to fade away.

People stopped laughing and telling their jokes, and that one small reason was...

The world had something important to do.
Something that would take time, effort, and definitely focus.

With every single step they would take,
the world got better as they laughed and talked and cuddled all night.

Through the night, something amazing happened. Once a day, once a night,
the world celebrated, their overcome fight.

Believe in yourself and your world.
